Talent Roster For Hollywood's Y-Day Revealed

The talent roster for the 28th annual Y-Day in Hollywood variety show today was announced by Doug Cannon, Program Secretary of the Torrance YMCA.

Included are Jack Linkletter, master of ceremonies; singing stars John Raitt and Dodie Stevens; Mel Blanc, the voice of Bugs Bunny; Lloyd Bridges, star of TV's "Sea Hunt"; Denis Weaver who plays Chester on "Gunsmoke"; Dwayne Hickman, of the "Dobie Gillis" TV show; Charlie Aldrich, operator of a movie ranch who will bring stunt men to simulate a fight scene; Muzzy Marcellino and his band, who play on "Art Linkletter's House Party"; The First Division Marine Band of Camp Pendleton; Chucko the Clown of ABC-TV; Earl McDaniel, Disc jockey of KFVB radio station, and others to be announced later.

All will be included in the giant variety show that will start the 28th annual Y-Day in the Hollywood Bowl. Other features of the Bowl show are hundreds of prizes and an amateur contest before the expected crowd of 10,000 youngsters and adults move on to the Los Angeles Coliseum for reserved seats at the USC-California football game.

Cannon urged the Torrance Area families to attend Y-Day together. Registration through the Torrance YMCA should be made as quickly as possible, he said.

Air Force Opens Ranks To Veterans

The Air Force will now accept veterans of Army, Navy, Marines or Coast Guard in the grades in which they left those services (up to E-7) if they hold one of the skills needed in the Air Force.

The more liberal grade policy for veterans of the other services was announced this week by the USAF recruiting office, 1319 1/2 Sartori Ave.

Tech. Sgt. Duane K. Hetter, office manager for the USAF recruiting office in Torrance, also announced that Headquarters, USAF, is also opening enlistment rules to take in more AF men who have had a break in service.

"Until now," states Sgt. Hetter, "Air Force has taken prior service men from the other services only in about 40 skills, and then only in grades at least one rank lower than those with which they left the other service. Now, Air Force will enlist such men in grades up to Master Sergeant (E-7) in many skills."
